

Bamboo Beach

I walked along a bamboo beach and knew of nothing out of reach.
When speckled stalks met foamy shore
the order collapsed, forever-more.
Dolphins breached far out to sea
a sight beheld only by me.
There are such wonders to be found with eyes held open, mind unbound.

Steven J. Sackinger
November 14th
MMIV